A QUESTION OF MILITIA

Legislature Has Full
Say on It.

IGNORED BY THE BILL

National Guard System May or May Not be Established in Hawaii.

Much interest has been expressed by Hawaiians in the future of the National Guard. Some have the idea that the National Guard is no more owing to the Territorialization of this country.
The facts are that there will be little change in the status of the present militia or in their numbers unless the legislature makes it. It is probable that Hilo will be given a company and it is barely possible that one of the other islands may be honored in this way.

At present there is but one regiment of the Hawaiian National Guard.
When Hawaii was annexed this regiment took the oath to support the Constitution of the United States, as also that of the Republic. Governor Dole said a day ago that the members of the First Regiment would receive commissions from him as Governor of the Territory and that would be practically the only change necessary.

He said that he had looked into the desirability of a company being formed at Hilo and that if the proper material offered he would willingly permit it.

Of course, as Governor of the Territory, Mr. Dole is entitled to a long staff of Colonels and also an Adjutant-General. The Adjutant-General in the Territories of the mainland, as in the full-fledged states is an important individual. Under the Governor he controls the militia and his duties are arduous. The position is generally sought for diligently by men of a military turn and its occupant finds it no sinecure.

The Governor may not commission an Adjutant-General. He does not have to do so unless the legislature constitutes the office. There is no mention in the Territorial Bill of an Adjutant-General, nor in fact of the militia at all, except the bare statement that the Governor shall be the head of the militia. This matter is left entirely to the legislature. The legislature may, if it sees fit, establish a militia system for as many regiments with officers as it wishes. It may create more regiments or may put out of existence the present one. The entire power is in its hands.
The United States makes an annual appropriation for the support of the militia of States and Territories and Hawaii will have this to assist in the support of a National Guard should the present one be continued or enlarged. What the amount is does not appear in the statistical almanacs.

Little has been done by the National Guard in establishing a battery battalion pure and simple. The present regiment belongs to the artillery service, and all the accoutrements and paraphernalia of the officers and men indicate that branch. They are, however, serving as infantry using the Springfield rifle on all occasions. Seldom is a gun of the old collection of artillery brought out for parades or for drill purposes.

The Government is in possession of a fine battery of light artillery which Ka-lakaua came into possession of during his incumbency of the throne. These guns together with several gatlings are stored away in sheds in the Executive grounds. There is every thing essential to the needs of an artillery battalion whenever it can be organized.
This is a popular branch of national guard service in most of the States, but few of them have accomplished results which have brought them into prominence except the Utah Light Artillery which gained such distinction in the Philippines. Artillery was not thought of in Utah until about five years ago, and even after the guns were procured from the War Department little interest was taken. The fact, however, that there was a battalion of artillery in Utah when the Spanish war broke out was sufficient cause for it to be sent to the Philippines, although two regiments of infantry were in existence but ignored.

Late Police.

The following cases will come up in the Police Court this morning besides those held over. Togayama, committing nuisance; Manuel Perry, cruelty to animals; Kwong Chong, building without a license; T. A. Winston, assault and battery; Lam Tin, opium and che fa ticket in possession and several drunks.

Condemnation of Coffee.

Stipulations were filed yesterday in the Circuit Court in the matter of the condemnation of two lots of coffee for the alleged smuggling of which J. C.
Cohen was tried last November. The matter was submitted to Judge Stanley for adjudication. The two lots of coffee consisted of 3000 pounds and 1040 pounds respectively.

Master's Report Confirmed.

Judge Stanley yesterday confirmed the master's report in the case of the Hawaiian Land Company vs. Nakaumano et al. The matter involved the partition of lands in Molokai and elsewhere about the islands.

Suit In Assumpsit.

Mary McPherson has brought suit in the Circuit Court against F. M. Brooks for $1750 loaned him a year ago.

To some unfortunates any hot discolored decoction of withered leaves "Tea." Tendering our profound compassion to this class of persons, we deal to those who love a good cup of real tea.

Few good judges of tea are entirely satisfied with the qualities possessed by any one brand of tea, and seek to supply deficiencies by a mixture of different teas, technically called "blending."

With our experience of teas we can do this better than an amateur sumer, our large knowledge of teas guiding us with comparative certain when the mere amateur blunders. If you are still looking for a tea that you, let us help you. We carry the most complete line of choice teas the country.
